

Certified Public Accountants (CPA) USA

More graduates and professionals than ever are turning on to the benefits of the U.S. CPA. It's the qualification that puts you in demand, increases your salary prospects and opens up a world of opportunities in India and beyond

The benefits of becoming a CPA

- ▶ Once you are a designated CPA you have the right to add these letters after your name and feel proud of it.
- ▶ The CPA's prime goal is to qualify you as a certified accountant, but it also opens many more doors to you than this.
- ▶ If you think being a CPA means you will be stuck in an accountancy firm, think again. With a CPA you can work in a vast range of industries, because every business needs an accountant. This means you could be doing the accounts for rock stars at a recording company or auditing the Oscar results – accountants work in many different fields and the options are limitless.
- ▶ CPAs bring in more money and more opportunity! Not only are you more in demand as a CPA, you're also in line for higher earnings. According to the AICPA, CPAs earn 10-15% more than non-CPAs working in accounting-related jobs.
- ▶ The job market is increasingly competitive and in times of a downturn even more so. But the CPA is one way to increase your job opportunities and have a recession-proof credential. Not only is the profession growing in terms of openings, but most employers will always pick a CPA over a non-CPA for the same position.
- ▶ A big part of being a CPA is related to upholding ethics. Once you have earned your designation, you will automatically convey to employers your suitability for positions of trust.
